

Big, Big World

The World

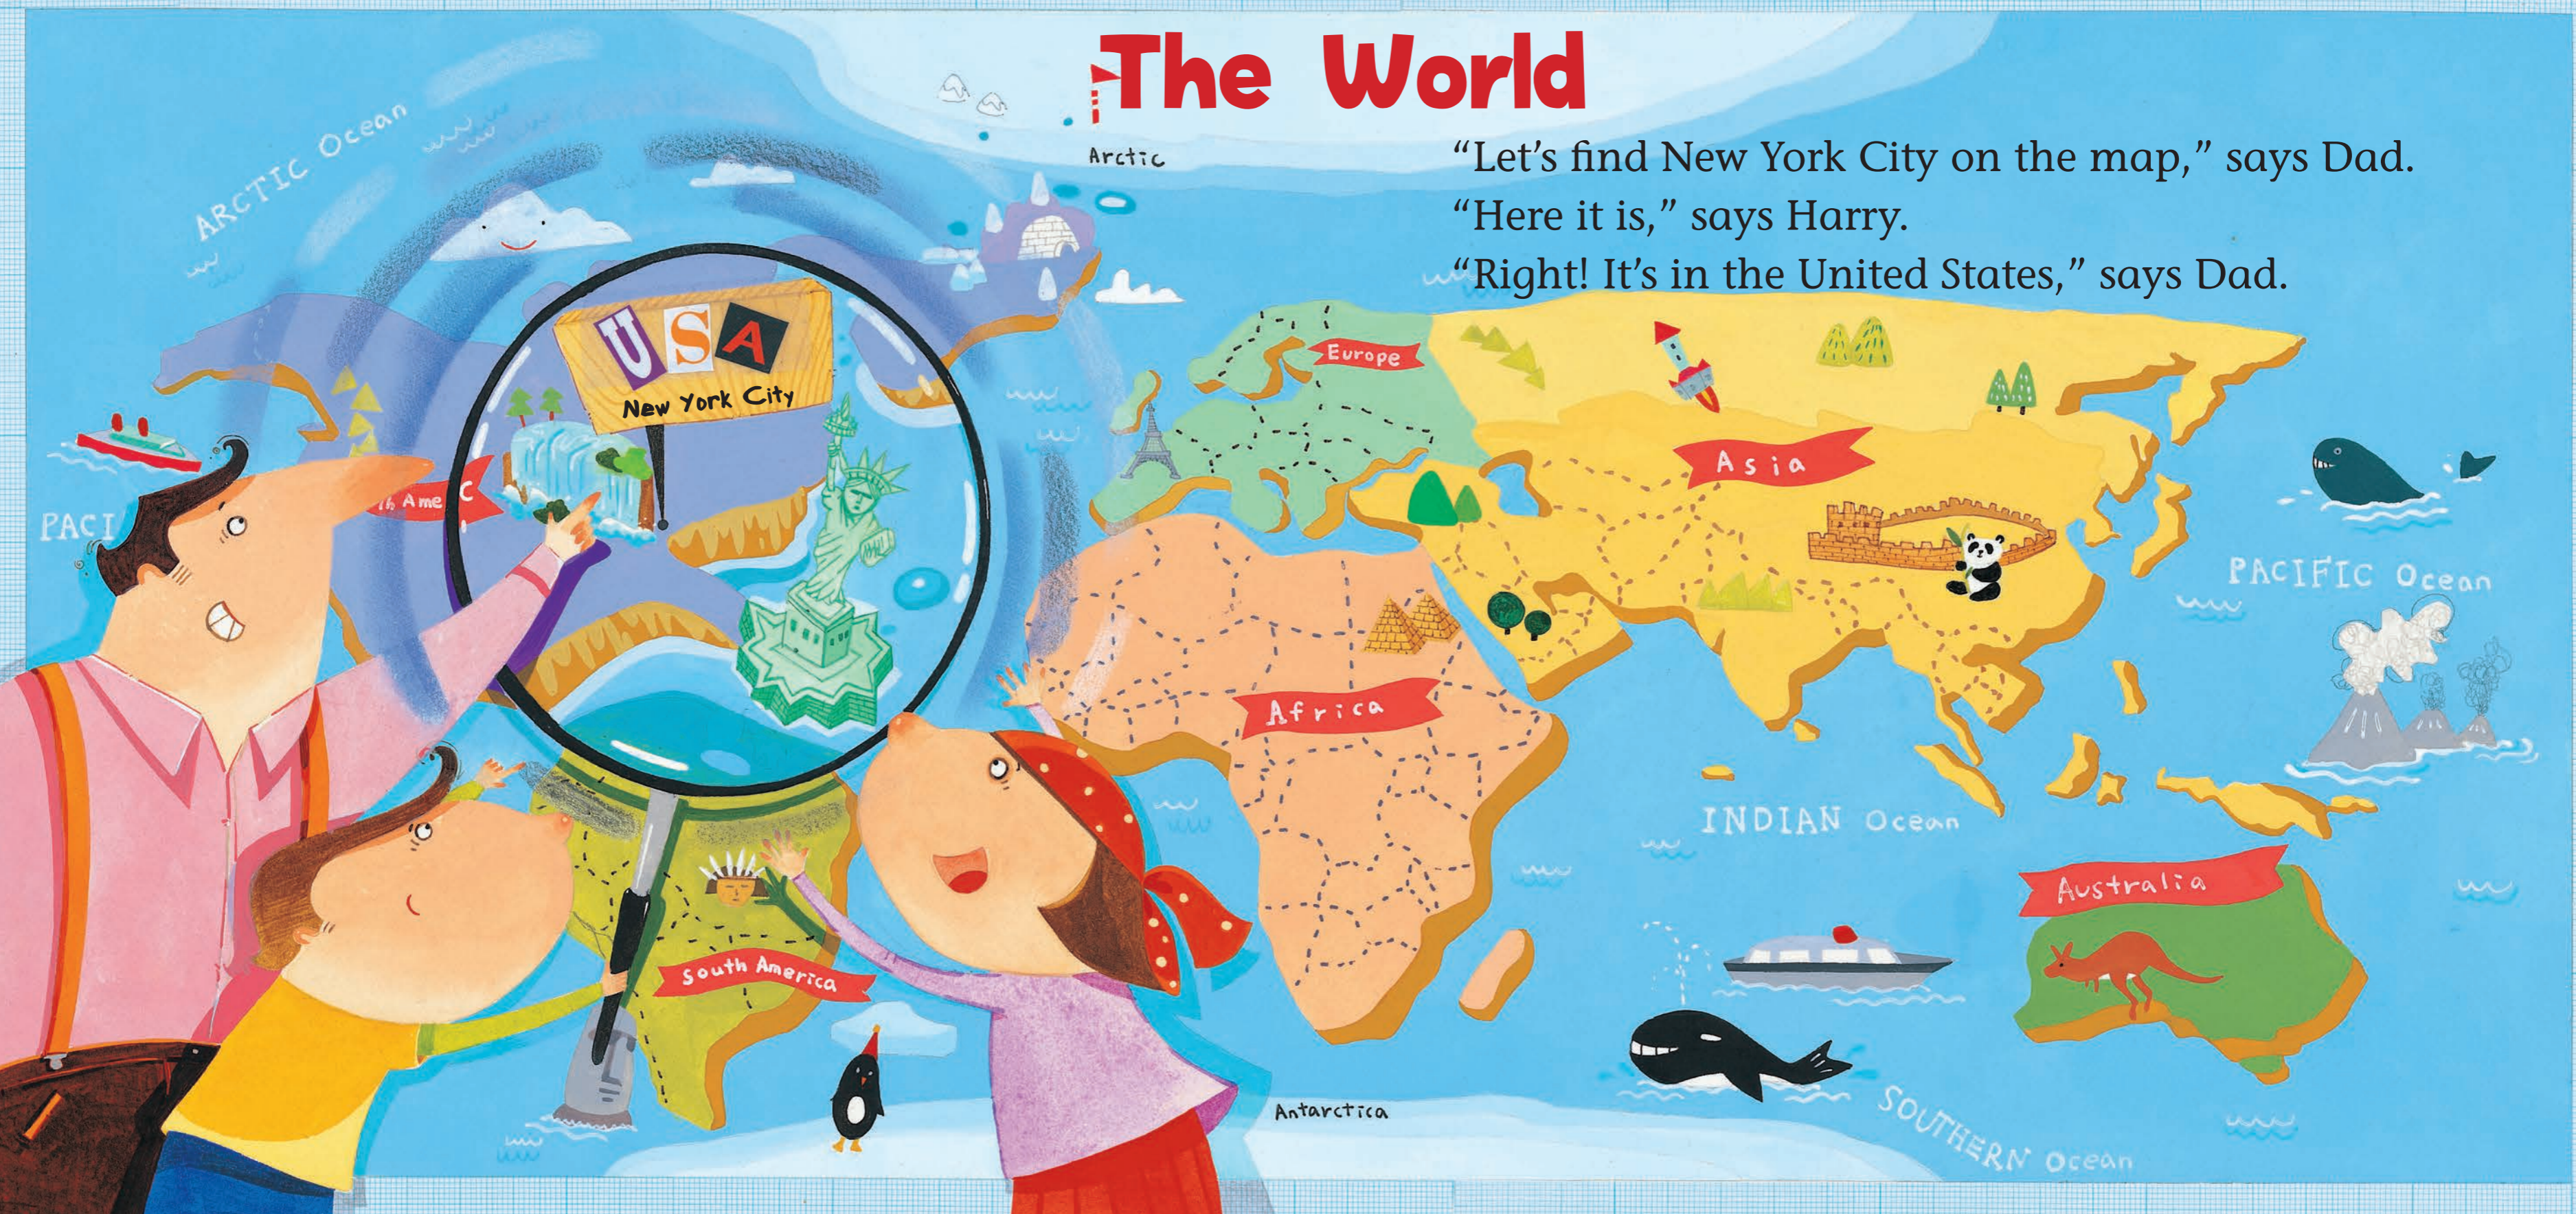

Jasmine and Harry live in New York. They have a dream of traveling around the world. "Here's a world map for you," says Dad. "Wow! There are a lot of countries in the world," says Jasmine. "I want to travel around the world someday." "We can do it now," says Dad.

The World

"Let's find New York City on the map," says Dad.

"Here it is," says Harry.

"Right! It's in the United States," says Dad.

“Here is New York City,” says Dad.

“Look! That’s the Statue of Liberty,” says Jasmine.

“She’s very tall.”

“She came from France in 1886,” explains Dad.
